Golf Outing

The Ohio Pest Management Association will again be hosting an annual golf outing in conjunction with our Summer Meeting. The outing is slated for 11:15 a.m. (tee times) on Friday, July 10, 2009, at Granville Golf Course in Granville, Ohio. Granville Golf Course (www.granvillegolf.com) is a beautiful course for both the novice and the pro alike. Opened in 1926, the course was designed by the legendary Scottish golf course architect Donald Ross. Granville's rolling wooded terrain and immaculate greens offer a challenge to golfers. The course also includes a driving range and is located 1/2 mile east of downtown Granville on Broadway.

For those wishing to play, the cost is $75 per player and includes greens fees, 1/2 a cart, and drink tickets to use on the course. Awards (and undoubtedly some commentary) will be presented during Friday evening's banquet at the Cherry Valley Lodge (see Program & Agenda for more information).

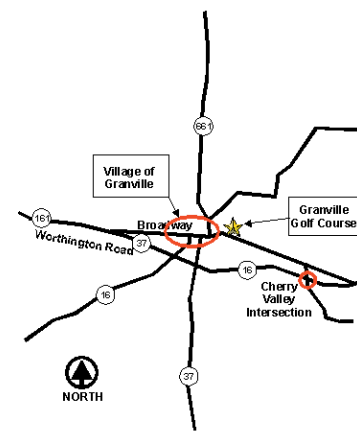

Dress code: Proper golf attire includes collared shirt with sleeves. All shirt tails must be tucked in. Denim and sweatpants, regardless of color or style, are not permitted on the course. T-shirts and metal spikes are also not permitted.
